McRea and Bunge, the two regular ends, are both out of the game with injuries, and Merrill, full-back, and Myers, tackle, were hurt. Slater, regular right half, is still unable to play, both knees being in bad condition. The police have been working in a quiet way for some time, and have taken down the names of a number of boys who are fast following in Waggoner's footsteps. The boys referred to are known to be staying out late, nights, catching on cars, annoying the street car men and running away from school. The officers have received several complaints of late, and are about to put a stop to the business, by having the boys committed to the reform school.

CALL GEN. WOOD A TYRANT.

Cubans Threatening Trouble—Leaders Talk of Another Revolution.

Santiago de Cuba, Oct. 4.—Gens. Miro and Sanchez, leaders in the Cuban insurgent army, have announced their belief that revolution will soon begin unless the Americans promptly evacuate the island. Miro and Sanchez say they are about ready to take their commands to the hills, prepared to fight to their last drop of blood against this second set of tyrants, as against the Spaniards. The American soldiers here hope the generals will carry out their threat.

HANCHETT-CARGILL NUPTIAL CEREMONY

ONE OF LA CROSSE'S MOST BRILLIANT EVENTS.

Such is the Verdict of Those Who Attended—Chronicle of That City Bears Them Out in a Lengthy Account—Many Guests Present From Abroad.

The Hanchett-Cargill wedding at La Crosse last Wednesday, is pronounced by those who attended, to have been one of the most brilliant events that ever took place in La Crosse, and the Chronicle of that city under date of Sunday, October 1, bears them out in the statement as follows:

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cargill was the scene of a brilliant social affair last Wednesday evening, the occasion being the marriage of their daughter, Miss Emma Cargill, and Fred M. Hanchett of Janesville.

At 8 o'clock the opening notes of Mendelssohn's wedding march by the orchestra was heard, which heralded the approach of the wedding party. First came the groom and best man, side by side, followed by Miss Charlotte Burton, the maid of honor, who bore in her arms an immense bunch of American Beauty roses; then came the charming bride, leaning on the arm of her father.

Entering the drawing room through a ribboned aisle, the ends of which were held by the two little nephews of the bride, Masters John McMillan, Jr., and George Cargill, they took their positions in front of an alcove which had the appearance of a floral grotto, with its decorations of hundreds of bridesmaids' roses and traveling vines.

Here, awaiting the bridal procession, was Rev. Guido Bossard, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who was to perform the wedding ceremony. During the ceremony the notes of that sweet melody "O Promise Me," floated down through the rose perfumed rooms, mingling their tones with the solemn and impressive marriage service.

After the usual congratulations, the guests were served to an elaborate and delicious supper. The bridal party were seated at a large round table in the north parlor. It was covered with a handsome cloth of white satin, elaborately trimmed with Cluny lace. In the center was a basket of American Beauty roses, white lilies and maiden hair ferns. On the handle of the basket was a huge bow of white satin ribbon. Dainty hand painted name cards designated each guest's place. At this table were seated the bride and groom, Mr. Woodrough, the best man, Miss Burton, the maid of honor, Fred Jeffris, Miss Helen Edwards, James Taylor, Miss Mae Valentine, Dan McMillan, Miss Louise Caldwell and Percy Newell.

Small tables placed in the dining room and library accommodated the other guests. Everything was arranged and conducted with faultless precision, and two hundred guests were served in a quiet and systematic manner, and with an absence of that stiff formality which usually characterizes an assemblage of this size.

The decorations were designed and carried out under the personal supervision of the hostess, whose acknowledged good taste was evinced in every detail. The color scheme was red.

American Beauty roses were used in great profusion. Tall palms and graceful ferns banked mantles and window seats. Festoons and garlands of smilax were suspended over windows and archways, all combining to complete a charming picture.

The beautiful drawing room with its walls hung with crimson brocade silk, formed an admirable background for the dazzling toilets and flashing jewels of the guests.

The bride was gowned in a handsome lustrous white satin, which hung in rich and heavy folds. It was made with long train. The yoke and sleeves were of lace encrusted with pearls and encrusted with silver and crystal paillettes. Her only ornament was a reversible pendant containing the miniatures of her two nephews who were her ribbon bearers; it was surrounded with twenty-four large diamonds and was one of her bridal gifts.

She wore a long tulle veil which fell in graceful folds to the hem of her dress. A short face veil partially concealed her features during the ceremony.

The maid of honor wore a beautiful dress of white mousselin de soie, made with a deep accented plaited flounce.

Mrs. Cargill, the mother of the bride, had on an elegant imported gown of pompadour silk with a pale blue ground, brocade with shades of American Beauty roses. The trimmings were lace and velvet, which, combined with her diamond ornaments, made an exceedingly elegant and effective toilet.

Mrs. Hanchett, mother of the groom, wore a handsome toilet of black.

GOOD ATTRACTION FOR SATURDAY.

Hoyt's "A Stranger in New York," in Matinee and Evening Performance.

Sydney Grant, who is with Hoyt's, "A Stranger in New York," which comes to the Myers Grand opera house Saturday in matinee and evening performance, was associated with Henry E. Dixey in the original production of "Adonis." In speaking of the occasion, Mr. Grant relates the following funny coincidences:

"Meanwhile we were playing at the Boston theatre, Boston, Mr. Dixey congratulated me on my success at imitations, and he first encouraged me to take up that line of work. While in 'Adonis' I never missed a performance without watching his famous imitation of Henry Irving in the second act. Mr. Dixey had constantly warned me not to stand in the first entrance, as that is against the rule of all theatres. One evening I took up my stand there from force of habit. I noticed an amused look upon Dixey's face, but did not understand it. The bell rang, the orchestra started to play and the curtain rose. I rose with it. Mr. Dixey had tied me with a heavy belt which I wore, to the curtain, and barely out of sight of the audience I hung forty feet above the stage, while the interpolated lines, 'He shall hang like a dog from yonder limb,' delivered with a fitting smile and emphasis in my direction, assured me of the author of my misery."

LADY MACCABEES ENTERTAIN

Sir Knights and Families Were Guests Last Evening

The East Side Odd Fellows' hall was the scene of a very pleasant gathering last evening. The ladies' auxiliary of the Knights of the Maccabees entertained the Sir Knights and their families in a manner that they will long remember. The affair was such a complete success that it will no doubt mark the beginning of a series of delightful entertainments. The Lady Maccabees held a short session while the guests were assembling, after which an interesting program was rendered. Lady Commander Mira T. Burdick delivered a short address of welcome, to which A. T. Wilkins responded on behalf of the Sir Knights, thanking the hostesses in an able manner for their hospitality, also making a few remarks along the line of fraternal organizations, in which he pointed out the meritorious features of the Maccabees. Miss Lucy Aldin very ably recited "How We Killed a Mouse," and in response to a hearty encore, recited "The Rite at Devil's Leap." The recitation, "Tom Was There, so Was I," by Edna Murdock completely captivated the audience and brought forth many a hearty laugh. The young lady has considerable ability as an elocutionist, as her efforts of last evening plainly showed.

She was naturally forced to respond to an encore, and recited "Kittens and Babies" in an equally pleasing manner. Sir Knight F. P. Williams was called upon, and made a few very appropriate remarks. Dr. H. A. Palmer closed the speech-making with a few able remarks, which were to the point, and listened to attentively. C. E. Belding was called upon, but lapsed into silence for fear he would "bring down the house," as "salt," he said, was the only thing he has been able to think of, and evidently thought the order was too new for any remarks on that commodity. He was present, however, and told a few stories on the side. After the completion of the program, refreshments were served in the dining hall. The appetites of all having been appeased, an hour or two was very pleasantly passed in games and social converse, the guests dispersing at a seasonable hour. This is the first social gathering carried out by the Lady Maccabees, but it was a great success, notwithstanding, and the ladies in charge are to be congratulated.

Mr. Payne stands at the head of the class; and if he has charge of the next battle, it will be fought cleanly, aggressively and successfully. If Mr. Hanna is retire to the end of his term as chairman, the republican party would do no better than to secure the services of the Wisconsin man.

The Chicago Journal does not take kindly to the New York World's agitation in favor of electing Admiral Dewey president. The Journal says:

Gen. Miles was a member of Dewey's party on the trip to Washington. Thus were two great shooters gotten together—Dewey, the man who shoots with his guns, and Miles, the man who shoots with his mouth.

Admiral Dewey established a bad precedent when he gave a Delaware boy a ten dollar gold piece. The boys were patriotic enough all the time, but now they will be more so, especially with Dewey.

B. F. CROSSETT DIES VERY SUDDENLY

WELL-KNOWN BUSINESS MAN PASSES AWAY.

Stricken With Heart Disease Last Evening, and Although Regaining Consciousness, Did Not Rally—Was Enjoying His Usual Health Yesterday—Other Notices.

Benjamin F. Crossett, one of the best known residents of Janesville, died very suddenly at his home, 153 Washington street at 9:20 o'clock last evening, of heart disease, aged fifty-nine years.

Mr. Crossett had been about town in his usual health yesterday and made a business trip to Footville for the Blodgett Milling Company, returning in the afternoon. Although he was suffering with a slight cold in the head, he was not ill. After eating his supper last evening, and visiting his wife for a short time, he retired. Soon afterward Mrs. Crossett heard him groan and hastened to his room. Mr. Crossett said that it was difficult for him to breathe, and declared himself to be very ill. Mrs. Crossett at once sent for Dr. Woods. The doctor at once saw that Mr. Crossett's hours were numbered and informed him that his illness was of a dangerous character. No pulse could be felt and a reaction could not be brought about. Mr. Crossett, while conscious, did not rally, and at 9:20 passed peacefully into the slumber from which there is no awakening.

Mr. Crossett was a native of New York, having been born at Clarington, Orleans county, in November, 1840. He resided in the east until 1861, in which year he came to Janesville, residing here ever since. He was a pioneer in the milling business, and was known to almost every farmer and business man in the county.

He had recently entered the employ of the Blodgett company, dividing his time between superintending the feed department and traveling on the road. Mr. Crossett was married to Miss Mary Ford at Bergen, New York, on October 17, 1860, who survives him, together with an adopted daughter, Miss Ada Crossett; a brother, "Corydon" Crossett of Battle Creek, Michigan, and two sisters.

The announcement of Mr. Crossett's death will cause widespread sorrow. He was widely known, and his cheery disposition made him exceptionally popular. He was one of the veteran members of the Fire Police, joining that organization many years ago. Recently he presented his resignation, but remains an honorary member. He was also a Knights Templar, and in politics he was a republican.

The funeral will be held from the late home, Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Francis W. London

Funeral services over the remains of the late Francis W. London were held at the family residence yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. E. H. Pence, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiated. A beautiful song service was rendered by Mrs. Charles F. Yates. A large number of sorrowing relatives and friends were present and the funeral services were many and beautiful. The remains were interred in Oak Hill cemetery at the close of the impressive services. The pall bearers were Solomon Spoon, L. D. Jerome, S. B. Hedges, J. A. Denbiston, Frank Gray and Albert Kolley.

Edwin Hart

Mrs. Cyrus Miner has received the sad intelligence of the death of a brother, Edwin Hart, which occurred at his home in Riverside, California, last week. Mr. Hart has resided at that place for some time, but was formerly a resident of Rock county and resided in the town of Turtle. This is the third brother who has passed away in the western state. Mrs. Miner has the sympathy of her countless friends in her great affliction, this news adding to the sorrow occasioned by the death of her husband.

Cyrus Miner.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Cyrus Miner were held at the house, 301 Court street, this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Arthur Barrington, pastor of Christ church conducted the sad rites. There was no singing and the interment in Oak Hill cemetery was private. The following acted as pall bearers: Victor P. Richardson, George M. McKee, John D. Rexford, Charles D. Stevens, Dr. Joe Whiting and Albert E. Bingham.

John Hagerty

The funeral of the late John Hagerty was held at St. Mary's church yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. In the absence of Rev. Father William A. Goebel the services were conducted by Rev. Father Rivers. The remains were laid to rest in Mount Olivet cemetery. The pall bearers were as follows: Bernard Dugan, Patrick Daly, Patrick Feeley, John Coné, John Riley and Michael Holloran.

Harry F. Gavney

After but a few days' illness with inflammation of the bowels, little Harry F. Gavney, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gavney of 108 North Hickory street, passed quietly away this morning at 12:30 o'clock. Harry was an exceptionally bright child, and his death comes as a severe blow to his bearded parents, and brother Tommy. Notice of the funeral will be given later.

REV. MATT EVANS QUITS METHODISM

HE IS DISSATISFIED WITH CONFERENCE ACTION.

Former Janesville Divine Will Join Another Church—Says Appointment Was Below His Grade—Intends to Engage in Business in the Sawdust City.

The Rev. Matt Evans, formerly pastor of the First M.E. church in this city and the divine who some years ago achieved distinction by reason of his fight against the nude figures upon the national currency, and who until recently has been pastor of the Second Methodist church in Oshkosh, has decided to withdraw from that church and join another. He is moved to this step by reasons of alleged unfair treatment at the hands of the conference, just closed, which assigned him, or intended to assign him, to Campbellsport, a charge, which he thinks is beneath his grade. For this reason Mr. Evans says he and his family have firmly decided to withdraw from the M. E. church. "By leaving the conference," said he, "I am now an elder at my own request. I have all the authority of a regular minister, but have no charge. In consequence of the difficulties and feeling that have existed in the conference for so many years, I intend to become a member of some other communion as do also the members of my family."

Will Go Into Trade

What other Oshkosh church he will join Mr. Evans would not state for publication. He intends to go into business in that city. The action of the conference, he says, is due to a "feeling" against him in the cabinet, which is composed of the bishop and the presiding elders of the conference. This feeling, or "persecution," as he termed it, at the conference, was caused, he says, by his effort several years ago in trying to secure the appointment of the Rev. J. S. Lean, a former Oshkosh pastor, as presiding elder of the Milwaukee district. Mr. Evans says that he went to the conference with his mind made up to accept an appointment provided that he was restored to his grade of appointment. He had decided to secure a "location" and return to that city if this were not done.

"Location and Liberty."

Mr. Evans says that in the morning of the closing day of the conference he learned that he was down for a small appointment, much below his grade, and he immediately announced to the conference that he would not accept the charge of the Campbellsport church at $360 a year, and asked for a "location." He was informed of the unsatisfactory appointment in time to secure a location before the appointments were made, for had he waited until after the reading he could not have secured the "location," which he now has. This "location," it appears, is in fact, no location, but liberty to locate at will, but without a church. Mr. Evans says the idea of his accepting the appointment to the church at Campbellsport is absurd and he learned that the members of the cabinet and conference did not expect him to accept it. He feels that he was entitled to a charge of a higher grade.

Thirty-Four Years in the Ministry.

It is almost thirty-four years that Mr. Evans has been in the active ministry, and during that time, he says, his character and reputation have been without a flaw. He has held several prominent charges and he states that his appointment to the second M. E. church in Oshkosh, was the first assignment that he was given below his grade.

FALL OPENING A SUCCESS

Ladies Much Interested in the New Millinery at Archie Reid & Co's.

All day long a steady stream of Janesville's well dressed women has poured into the millinery department of Archie Reid & Co's dry goods store, where the fall and winter display of stylish headwear is being made. Windows, mirrors and showcases are dressed for the occasion and everything has assumed a holiday garb. The patterns are between fifty and seventy-five in number, some of them imported goods, to say nothing of the handsome hats and bonnets gotten out by the skilled trimmers in the local workshop.

Black hats or black and white are the first choice for women of quiet taste, although brown, green, blue and dark red are made up quite as handsomely. All show such ingenuity in their construction as to make them wholesale mysteries to the uninitiated. No previous season has shown such an amount of fine work in their manufacture, nor anything like the machine stitching that rules today. Materials are exceedingly rich, and with them tulle, lace, chiffon and liberty silk are used.

While the shapes are many and varied, the leading favorites seem to be the large hat with conical crown susceptible of the most elaborate development, and the Spanish turban which calls for rather more conservative treatment and ostrich feathers and tips hold their own, and are used in great profusion, while fancy feathers, wings, quills and whole birds divide favor with them. The opening lasts through the week and is the main topic of conversation with the ladies of the city.

THE EAST SIDERS WERE VICTORIOUS

DEFEAT WEST SIDE IN YES-TERDAY'S GOLF GAME.

The Result of the Game Was a Score of 43 to 25—Eighteen Pairs Battle For Supremacy at Buckleton Links—New England Supper at Club House.

The golfers of the east side demonstrated their supremacy over those of the west side, at Buckleton links yesterday afternoon, and proudly bore away the stein, the possession of which proclaims them the champions for one year at least. Play was commenced at 2 o'clock, and was participated in by eighteen players from each side of the river. The long heralded contest brought out a large number of spectators, and was by far the most interesting match of the many successful ones which have marked the past season. Both sides were confident of victory, and played as if their lives depended upon the result. The rivalry was of the good natured sort, however, and when it was known that the west side was shown under by a score of 43 to 26, the losing team took their defeat gracefully, and found solace in explaining to their backers how it happened.

Of course it was a foregone conclusion that the residents of the west side would be beaten, but their opponents endeavored to keep the score as low as possible, so as to be sure of another match next fall. This is the way they did it.

CHICAGO'S BIG FROLIC.

The Fall Festival, Beginning October 4, Will Be a Nine Days' Carnival—Many Notables Expected to Attend.

By John F. Willoughby.

DESIGN FOR DECORATING STATE STREET.

Chicago is preparing for nine days of carnival. The event is to be known as the fall festival. It is to begin on Oct. 4 and if the present plans are carried out will be a record breaker.

There are several reasons given for indulging in this big municipal frolic. In the first place, it will serve to mark the close of a season of unexampled prosperity in the commercial interests of the city; in the second place, the cornerstone of the new Chicago post-office is to be laid, and, thirdly, the return of Admiral Dewey, who, it is expected, will be induced to visit Chicago during the festival, makes the occasion worthy of much rejoicing.

The committee in charge of the affair is raising a fund of $150,000, two-thirds of which has already been subscribed. Of this sum $18,000 has been set aside for the purpose of illuminating the city for two nights. The illumination will be thoroughly done, as you may guess from the generous sum appropriated to this feature.

Chicago does not propose to have her fun all by herself. Invitations are to be sent out to more than 25,000 "eminent Americans." If you don't get one, you should write to the committee. Some notables are bound to be overlooked in arranging for an affair of this kind.

President McKinley and his cabinet have been included, of course. The president is down on the programme for the cornerstone laying. Every effort will be made to induce the chief executive to take along with him from Washington Admiral Dewey.

President Diaz of Mexico is another distinguished personage who is expected to be present. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and staff are to be invited also. The heads of all United States government departments, the governor of each state and the mayors of all prominent cities are among the invited guests. It is also hoped that something like 1,000,000 plain American citizens, with money enough to pay their own hotel bills, will take in the show, patronize the Chicago merchants and help swell the crowd.

The festival programme is an imposing one. It is as follows:

Oct. 4.—Opening of the festival in the evening with grand illumination of the city and fireworks display.

Oct. 5.—Band concerts in all the parks. Historical parade and parade of nations in the evening.

Oct. 6.—Reception to honored guests, naval and military heroes of the war, governors, United States officials. Grand choral festival of song in the new Coliseum, building on Walsh avenue. Illuminated bicycle parade in the evening, 50,000 wheelmen participating.

Oct. 7.—Arrival of President McKinley and cabinet and Admiral Dewey. Review and drill of Illinois regiments and band concerts in the parks. Grand industrial parade, which will probably be reviewed by the president.

Oct. 8.—Religious festival services in all the churches. Great religious mass meetings at the Auditorium. Sacred concerts in all of the parks.

Oct. 9.—Laying of the cornerstone of the new postoffice by President McKinley. Great military and civic parade. Banquet to the president and cabinet at the Auditorium.

Oct. 10.—Public reception to President McKinley. Grand ball and fireworks display.

Incidental to this programme is to be the illumination of State street, the Marquette club banquet on the night of Oct. 7 at the Auditorium, the presence in the city of a band of Sioux Indians, 250 in number, and other attractions of a nature calculated to keep the visitor and sightseer busy.

The Chicago committee appointed to visit President Diaz and formally invite him to visit Chicago during the festival was delightfully received by him and assured that the president of Mexico would gladly visit Chicago in October if his congress gave permission to him to come. The Mexican congress convenes Sept. 15, and at that time President Diaz will ask for permission to visit Chicago. The belief is strong that permission will be granted him to come.

Another special committee has been sent to Canada, to present an invitation to Sir Wilfrid Laurier. A third committee has just been appointed to carry to President McKinley the formal invitation for him to be present, although it is privately known that he will accept. There is a possibility that King Leopold, who is expected to be the guest of Mrs. Potter Palmer at Newport at an early date, may be induced to journey westward and be one of the honored guests of the festival occasion.

There will be two great banquets during the festival, banquets fully as notable as those during the jubilee of last year when speeches now famous as part of the history of the country were made. The Marquette club, one of the foremost political organizations of the city, will hold its banquet on the night of Oct. 7 at the Auditorium. The arrangements are to be such that spectators will probably be admitted to the hall to view the notables at the tables and hear the speeches.

It is expected that the principal speakers will be President McKinley, Secretary Gage, Secretary Root, Secretary Long, Senator Fairbanks of Indiana and Archbishop Ireland of Minnesota.

The other banquet of the period will be that following the laying of the cornerstone of the new postoffice. This banquet is to be given by the fall festival officials and the committees conducting the cornerstone exercises.

The two banquets will be supplemented on the last night of the festival with a grand ball, to which all of the guests of the occasion will be invited. This ball will be on the night of Oct. 10 at the Auditorium.

The pyrotechnical displays of Chicago have already attained fame throughout the northwest, but it is promised that all past efforts will be surpassed by those of this year. State street is to be the central point from which the illumination features will radiate. It has been decided that the street shall be decorated from Van Buren street to Lake, literally covered with electrical designs, bunting, flags, show window ornaments, festoons of light, two great arches, symbolic columns and the like.

The parades are to be out of the stereotyped order. The historical parade and parade of nations of the night of Oct. 5 is to be a costume affair, in which representatives of every civilized nation on the globe will take part. The line of march will be through the illuminated portions of the city, and it is expected that 10,000 characters will take part.

More unusual than this, though, will probably be the bicycle parade, if the plans of the committee having charge of it are carried out. This committee has made a statement that with good weather it will have 50,000 wheelmen in line. So far as possible the wheels will be illuminated and the riders in fanciful costumes.

The union of the ceremonies of laying the cornerstone of the new postoffice and those of the fall festival was a happy thought. The cornerstone will be laid on the anniversary of the destruction of Chicago by the great fire of 1871—Oct. 9.

Afterward there will be a military parade, participated in by veterans of the Spanish-American war and all of the military organizations of the city and the state.

But all of the proceedings of the fall festival are not to be of the merry-making kind. The well known Bishop Fallows has been authorized to arrange for religious exercises of the most solemn character. He has already so perfected his plans that some of the most noted divines of the country will take part in these exercises.

Plans are partially under way also for the holding of a great religious congress, undenominational in character, during the festival.

A NOTABLE LIMA EVENT.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gould Celebrate Fifteenth Wedding Anniversary.

Lima, Oct. 3.—One of those notable events which tend to brighten life's pathway and strengthen the ties of friendship, occurred on Wednesday, September 27, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gould. Over half a century has passed since the words were spoken which united Frank Gould and Miss Mary Anne Fraser in the holy bonds of matrimony. The wedding took place in Lima, on the farm west of the village, now owned by Mr. Graham. Last Wednesday being the fifty-first anniversary, Mrs. Gould invited their sons, with their families, down to the fourth generation; also a few old friends and neighbors, to take dinner with them, in honor of the day. After enjoying the feast of good things with which the table was loaded, the company, in imagination went back to the good old days when the country was new, and neighbors few and far between. Kind words were spoken in memory of those who had passed away, and especially, of the only daughter, Cynthia, who is still so sadly missed from the home circle. After spending a very pleasant day, the guests departed, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Gould many happy anniversaries of their wedding day. Last Friday night little Lawrence Poynter accidentally drank some kind of acid and he is very sick child with little hope of recovery. Mrs. James Spracklin is very sick with bowel trouble at this writing. Mrs. George Ritter is a great sufferer with a large felon in the center of her right hand. Miss Belle Johnson, Miss Carrie Johnson and little Ruth attended services at the Free Baptist church, last Sunday. We are glad to welcome Rev. Sherwin to the M. E. church another year. Miss E. B. Child is visiting Whitewater friends. Avery Johnson has bought a house and lot at Milton Junction and will soon move there. What is Lima's loss is Milton's gain. The entertainment in Holbrook's hall last Friday was quite well attended, and all report a good time. Mrs. Chapman is having her house repaired and reshingled. Miss Ella Barker returned to Lima last Saturday night. Miss Mae Hulise of Oakfield, has been visiting her cousins, Florence and Ethel Stetson, the past week. Dr. Stetson's sister, Mrs. Smiley, George Smiley and wife, of Orfordville, and Prof Egan and wife of Janesville, surprised the doctor and his family, by coming in upon them unexpectedly.

North Magnolia

North Magnolia, Oct. 3.—It is some warmer this week, though the nights are cool for this time of year. Tobacco is curing very nicely. Keith Shaw is the only one we have heard of in this vicinity selling tobacco. He received seven cents straight. The Shaw boys have a new Keystone shredder, which they expect to start as soon as they finish threshing. Will Weary is looking smiling these days over the arrival of a baby girl there last Wednesday. Potatoes are not as nice a crop through here as was expected. Boyne Shaw has just harvested his peanut crop. He had a fine yield and splendid large nuts. Harry Lee is seriously ill, and is threatened with lung fever. Gene is also down with heart trouble. Sam Hastings died last week. He had resided in this neighborhood for several years. Mrs. Emmons was expected home Saturday from Iowa, where she has been making quite a lengthy visit. There was a party at Mr. Thompson's Friday evening. A very pleasant time is reported. Some of the young people like to go to Evansville to hear the Salvation Army. Mr. Walters rode to Janesville Sunday on his wheel. Charles Moore's sister from Iowa, is visiting him.

Capt. Parker on the Shamrock.

New York, Oct. 4.—A dispatch to the World from London says: "It is learned on reliable authority that Capt. Ben Parker, commander of Emperor William's yacht Meteor, is now in New York incognito. He sailed from here on the liner New York on her last trip, traveling under an assumed name, and landed last Saturday. His presence was carefully concealed from the other passengers. Just what his purpose is can not be stated, but the surmise is that he will advise with the captains of Shamrock and give them the benefit of his wide experience as one of Europe's best-known and most successful sailing masters."

Scrofula to Consumption.

Any one predisposed to Scrofula can never be healthy and vigorous. This taint in the blood naturally drifts into Consumption. Being such a deep-seated blood disease, Swift's Specific is the only known cure for Scrofula, because it is the only remedy which can reach the disease.

Scrofula appeared on the head of my little grandchild when only 18 months old. Shortly after breaking out it spread rapidly all over her body. The sores on the sores would peel off on the slightest touch, and the odor that would arise made the atmosphere of the room sickening and unbearable. The disease next attacked the throat, and we feared she would lose her sight. Eminent physicians from the surrounding country were consulted, but could do nothing to relieve the little innocent, and gave it as their opinion that the case was hopeless and impossible to save the child's eyesight. It was then that we decided to try Swift's Specific. That medicine at once made a speedy and complete cure. She is now a young lady, and has never had a sign of the disease to return.

Scrofula is an obstinate blood disease, and is beyond the reach of the average blood medicine. Swift's Specific is the only remedy equal to such deep-seated diseases; it goes down to the very foundation and forces out every taint. It is purely vegetable, and is the only blood remedy guaranteed to contain no mercury, potash or other mineral substance whatever.

WINE OF CARDUI

Woman Knows Woman.

ZURICH, KAN., Jan. 31.
I used Wine of Cardui for nervousness and weakness in the womb. After taking one bottle I was well again. I am a midwife and always recommend Wine of Cardui to my lady friends during pregnancy and after birth as a tonic. Every lady who takes it finds that it does even more than is claimed for it.
MRS. V. M. BOISVERT.

Wine of Cardui

Nobody knows woman like woman. Men go to medical colleges, study books and listen to lectures. They learn indirectly of the diseases of women, but they are men and can never fully understand the ailments, the sufferings, the agonies of mothers, wives and sisters. A woman knows. Mrs. Boisvert knows. She has passed through the trials and tribulations of her sex. She has been near by when her sisters suffered. She has seen them relieved and cured with Wine of Cardui. Is it any wonder she recommends it? Is it any wonder that thousands of other women recommend it? They know. They have actual experience to prompt them. They spread the tidings from mouth to mouth, telling how Wine of Cardui helps young girls, helps the weak of all ages, helps and cures all womanly ills.

Black Clothes.

The popularity of black clothes is due largely to the fact that a large percentage of men have to study economy to a greater or less degree, and a great many who do not have to do so like black clothes above fancies.

Black Clothes are Economical in that they are inconspicuous and always in good taste. . . .

so that one does not notice that the same suit is worn very often indeed. Also the fact that the material is black saves the expense in manufacture of making a fancy weave of different colors, which is a large item, so that for the same money one gets a much finer material in black than in fancy goods.

Our black suits are the acme of quiet good taste and elegance. Style, tailoring, and trimmings are the best and instil a great satisfaction into the bosom of the wearer.

THE WAR IS TO BE PUSHED.

Congressman Boutelle of Maine Makes an Important Statement.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—The Times-Herald publishes the following from its special correspondent at Washington:

"President McKinley's policy on the Philippines was officially outlined after a conference held by him with advisers at the conclusion of the Dewey dinner at the white house Tuesday night.

"It is to push the war to a successful conclusion with all possible vigor, and when peace comes to submit to congress for settlement the question of the future of the islands.

"This program was announced after the conference by Congressman Boutelle of Maine, chairman of the house committee on naval affairs. Mr. Boutelle made this statement for publication:

"The administration policy is to carry out the manifest will of the American people in furnishing troops to go to the Philippine islands to sustain the fruits of Admiral Dewey's victory.

"The duty that now devolves upon this government is to maintain our sovereignty over the islands and sustain our soldiers against any enemy and against any disturbance of law and order, everything being for the purpose of establishing a rightful government for the people of the islands in such manner as the American government, through congress, shall determine.

"The campaign must be pushed actively and vigorously, and the opposition to our army must be ended as rapidly as possible. Peace must be established by this government and maintained thereby until congress shall determine what shall be done with the islands.

"From what the president said, it is proposed to bend every resource to the stamping out of all opposition to our authority, to the settlement of the war and to the establishment and maintenance of peace."
